

MAUS - Bug #1805

InputCppRoot still performs a JSON conversion

Description
Just noticed that InputCppRoot is still performing JSON conversions (and hence running about as quickly as an arthritic tortoise compared with the other modules). Needs to be refactored in the same manner as the other modules.

Durga, I assigned this to you just because I think you were doing the Input modules back when we were doing the API refactoring. If you don't have time though, let me know and I can have a go.
